These loans may be treated in the same way as loans for the relief of distress due to scarcity and the power of remitting interest in deserving cases may be exercised by Dy Commr. under Rule III. Where interest can be recovered the rate may be 3% as provided for in this rule.

I think a period of 10 years for repaying a loan of Rs 50 is too long. Rule V allows only 3 years in such cases and I do not think this period need be extended.

SIR,

I have the honor to state that the Deputy Commissioner, Kadur District, reports that the sufferers in the recent floods in Mudégere Taluk pray that Takavi loans may be given to them free of interest and made repayable in ten annual instalments, and recommends that the concessions prayed for by the sufferers may be granted. The Deputy Commissioner further states that in case the loans cannot be permitted to be granted free of interest, a nominal rate of say 4 per cent. may be recovered instead of the usual rate of $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

2. I beg to recommend that, as prayed for by the sufferers, Takavi loans may be permitted to be granted free of interest under Rule III of the Rules under the Land Improvement Loans Regulation, page 177 Revenue Manual, Part III, distress due to floods being treated as equivalent to distress due to scarcity and the rules being satisfied in other respects.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,
